Text

But they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; they walk, and not faint --- Isaiah 40:31

"Grant O Lord, that this day which thou hast given unto us in mercy, may be returned unto thee in service. May all our tasks be gladly and faithfully done, as in thy sight; may our burdens be not too heavy for us, because thine aid and comfort are with us continually; and in nothing may we displease thee, or injure one another. For all our shortcomings O God, let thy fatherly wisdom correct us, and thy divine love amend our fault, and infinite mercy forgive us; thou; h Jesus Christ our Saviour. Amen!

to-night at 7.P.M. The Topic will be Whe Blessings of Repentance."

Once every six years Christmas falls on bunday, and such is the case this time. The services of the day next Sabbath vill all bear upon the Christmas thought and meaning.

The choir will give us special music, and the Sermon will be suited to the occasion.

the Sunday School exercises will be held on Monday night, 26th, and the usual features will secarried out.

Fort; of the children will have a part in it, and there will be a tree and banta Claus, and the School treat.

The Young People plan to hold a new year's watch social on the evening of the 31st in the Chapel, ith a small charge to pay for refreshments will be made.

The Choir accompanied the Paster last sabbath afternoon to the Synodic Home for old felks at Belvidere, and were warmly received by the fifty or more members of the home. In full devotional service was held the choir rendered an anthem, and led in the singing of the hymns. It was a cold snowy day but we all were glad to so and help in their worship. Our church is asked to conduct this service two or more times each year.

The next issue of the dulletin will reflect the Christmas spirit of good will and joy. The special article will be furnished by our gifted contributor, Mr. Clinton. E. Weston, It will consist of several humorous incidents occuring in the old Oxford days.

We have to thank Mr. J. Jearing for several clippings from old local news papers. From an O: ford letter in the Warren Laily News, March 19th, 1897, we take these items:-

The following are the officers who were elected at the Preubyterian shada, chool on Wednesday evening to act for the next term: Superintendent, T.A. Jones, Asst. Supt., S.J. Cooper, Treasurer, G.P. Breisbach, ecretary, Co. tland Jooke, Librarian, John Cooke Chorister G.P. Albright Organist Amanca Perkins."

Maiked copies of the Bulletin sometimes fail to reach their testination. That were the cause we are always pleased to be notifica, and promptly send another copy. The First Store in Warren County

Mrs.Robert C.Lanning of Washington
N.J. sends the following excerpt from an historical work, "Northwestern New Jersey," Volumne II., by A. Van Loren Honeyman:-

"There is no question that the first settlers to come down the Lelaware as far as Warren County, after the early Dutch miners left about 1664, were the family of Nicholas Lepui, who arrived in New Amsterdam in October, 1362 from Artois, Flance. He followed the old mine road to its end and found improvements in the shape of apple orchards and cleared land at what is now Shawnee, above Water Gap.

This line road was an old Indian trail from the Hudson river to the Lelaware, and very much improved by the Lutch to get their ore to New Amsterdam (Tew York.)

"Nicholas Lepui bought this improved land and islands from two Indians then inpossession of it, "augoanlenneggea and Pennogue, and lived there with his sons, Samuel, Laniel, Aaron and Benjamin.

"Aaron Lepui came on down as far as Oxford and started the first store in Warren County in 1741, long before there were any stores in Laston, Phillipsburg or Bethlehem. People came as far as thirty miles to do their trading. Nicholas Lepui sent his Indian Boys Mark anthony and Parinesa from Shawnee with orders for goods to this store at Oxford, New Jersey.

"The old ledger of this store, beginning with 1743, is still in existence, being in the possession of one of the Lebui descendants, Mrs. ". Croascale, of liver Farm, st the Lelaware Jap."

also an account of the Ole Furnace from the same volume, which is here given vit a some omissions:-

"Jonathan hobeson came to Exford from ( Quaker town and built a charcoal furnace that produced its first iron on March 9th 1743 ... At first the product was only two tons a day, which needed 700 bushels of charcos I for its production. in 1800 the furnace was making three tons a day, and the use of so much charcoal laid bare all the hills within hauling distance, so that the furnace discontinued between 1809 and 1831, At the latter date, owing to the completion of the Loris canal, fuel was again obtainable, and the furnace was started under the management of William Henry. Es . who as early as 1854 used the bot blast and obtained the natenet for it ... The the (Continued from last page) "Luring the Revolution the Tory owners Dr. William Shippen, shut down their works, out the iron was needed more than ever before for cannon and balls, so the new government did not hesttate to take charge and operate them by men who wer excused from military duty for so doing.

"ilr. Henry the inventor of the hot blast for iron furnaces, went from Oxford to Scrinton Pa., to build a new furnace in the coal fields. His partner aying. he secured assistance from the Borantons, P.4 Mather, of Laston, and Canford Grant, Of Bolvidere, to found found the great Lackawanna Iron and Coal Co. there and gave the city its name, Scranton, which is thus a daughter of Oxfora. N. J."

Mrs. Lanning is looking up the history of the Lanning family writes that sne hasfound that "the parents of Steven Lanning, who was born in Oxford in 1800. were Daniel Lanning and his wife Fanny Bainbridge of England. Their children were Eliza, Fanny, May, Sarah Ann, Mahalah, Charles, Stephen, Daniel and Jonathan Axford. Now I must find the dates of their birth and if they assisted at the furnace or supplied charcoal at the time of the Revolution. I mean Daniel I. "
